Ok, sorry, and will do in the future. This one, the lab number is: [REDACTED] I'm working on trying to get a continuance. The defense attorney, in between picking a trial date and the trial date, has filed a voluminous discovery motion relating to the hinton lab and the investigation, so it's unlikely that the case will be going to trial that day now anyway, at least from my point of view. I'll let you know when we get a new date. any dates particularly bad for you that you know of at this point in the next few months? Thanks, adam

Hi Adam,

I received your summons for the [REDACTED] I am on vacation the week of the 19th thru 23rd. Also please include Certificate of Analysis Numbers on the summons. I have no way of knowing what samples are involved; our data base will not allow searches because of the investigation.

Thanks,
